Art Unit: 3635

1. This Office action is in response to the amendment filed 06/05/06. Claims 1-18 are pending.

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the foot sack support attached to the foot sack opening must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

There is an inadequate written description of how the collapsible foot sack support attaches to the foot sack opening. As best understood the support 20 is positioned within the opening. Not attached thereto as disclosed and claimed. It is unclear how it is attached and further how it pivots if attached.

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims fail to particularly point out the invention as understood by the examiner. As understood the foot sack support is positioned within the foot sack opening not attached thereto. It is unclear how it is attached and further how it pivots if attached.

It is unclear how the blind can be considered frameless when it includes foot sack support 20 and side supports 26. Page 3 of the specification recites that the principle object is that there is no frame supporting the side walls and top of the blind and thus no metal bars but the claims require foot sack support (disclosed as bars) and side supports. How can the blind then be considered frameless?

7. Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that the examiner cannot use element 52 as both the enclosed foot sack and the movable flap. This is not found persuasive as when partially zippered the lower portion of elements 50 and 52 clearly form a foot sack open at the top end thereof and the top portion of element 52 form a movable flap. In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986). The examiner acknowledges that Figler fails to provide the foot sack support and has relied upon Mason as a secondary teaching.

Art Unit: 3635

In response to applicant's argument that Mason is nonanalogous art, it has been held that a prior art reference must either be in the field of applicant's endeavor or, if not, then be reasonably pertinent to the particular problem with which the applicant was concerned, in order to be relied upon as a basis for rejection of the claimed invention. See In re Oetiker, 977 F.2d 1443, 24 USPQ2d 1443 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, Mason is reasonably pertinent to the particular problem in that it is designed to support the top cover of a bedding above a user's legs. The blind of the instant invention is nothing other than a modified sleeping bag which is a form of bedding.

It is noted that applicant's remarks concerning claim dependency are incorrect.

Claims 7, 9, 10 and 11 do not depend from claim 1 as indicated.

The previous art rejection has not been applied again as because as best understood the prior art does not teach a collapsible foot sack support attached to the foot sack opening. However, this feature is not clearly described or shown in the original disclosure.
